I just want to thank everybody, and especially Wayne, for posting and helping me decide how to build my first set of speakers. I finished them yesterday and have been breaking them in ever since. I am very happy with how they sound and look. I think my next project will be to build a nice little tube amp to go with them.....now I just have to decide which one.

I just bought an Antique Sound Labs Tulip 2A3 amp and it is astounding for an $895 Price Tag. I am considering the 2Pi for my next speaker purchase. After you've had a good listen could you e-mail me with your opinion?
