Hello To complete my speaker stack which I use for live sound, I need A constant directivity horn for at least a 1" exit compresion driver (for JBL 2426H's) To sit on top of the whole stack. I know peavey used to make them but they're becoming harder to find, at least in central Florida anyway. Does anyone know whereI can buy a pair???Thanks-Don

Parts Express (www.partsexpress.com) has lot's of them-their Selenium selection has some big 'uns (500 Hz)- or EV is still in the business.I just got some 125 hz cutoff BIG horns (48"X24") fed by a 12" EV, and a 1Khz horn in the middle- fed by a 2" exit DH1t EV HF driver- boy these things play clean and LOUD (retired cinema speakers). One set per side, a dual driver 15" W binn below, and it rocks.--Larry Acklin(Acklin Sound)
