Mr. Parham:I just wanted to post a note to tell you that I think you must be the most honest, helpful, forthright and technically competent person that posts on the internet. Your own forum is simply an exemplar. The fact that you direct posters to other sources for parts rather than try to promote a sale is just one instance in which you are unlike any other business person I've ever heard of, never mind met. Personally, I don't know where you get the energy or the patience - especially since, as far as I can tell this is a sideline for you. Elsewhere, you are often the target of the most ridiculous and downright disgusting attacks and yet you always remain a gentleman. I sincerely hope you find this work rewarding, because as far as I'm concerned you deserve a Congressional medal. With deepest respect, Charlie DeLuca

I'll also say thanks to Wayne for all the help he has given me. I agree with you Charlie, I would not have the patience to deal with audio asylum lurkers just waiting in wings on Wayne's every post to offer up nothing more than a rude slam. It's hard to believe so many children are interested in speakers! Bill

...and I could go on and on, but that says it real well.and thanks for the horn info the other day Wayne.By the way, I used what I have learned from the crossover document (and this forum) to re-do some Dynaudio parts that had been in the closet. They really sing in my office now.Thanks for all you share,Thomas

"Doesn't he look good? Doesn't he look natural?" - Shelly BermanI have to say that, after meeting him, it came as no surprise that Wayne chose a hobby that educates and at the same time creates fun.Knowing that Baker wants to wait 2 years, how about using this occasion to organise a high efficiency Rodeo in Tulsa? Or my apartment for that matter? I can't wait 2 years for us to get together again.
