
Subject: Who powered up all their amps at once?
Posted by Bill Martinelli on Thu, 14 Aug 2003 23:36:23 GMT
View Forum Message <> Reply to Message

Bit of a problem on the east coast tonight! Rochester is without power too, and the city is pretty full right now with visitors from all over to see the PGA championship. Lots of people all over with problems from this qlitch in power.Bill

Subject: Re: Who powered up all their amps at once?
Posted by Wayne Parham on Fri, 15 Aug 2003 00:42:38 GMT
View Forum Message <> Reply to Message

So you're out of power? Are you running a generator?

Subject: Re: Who powered up all their amps at once?
Posted by Bill Martinelli on Fri, 15 Aug 2003 00:51:46 GMT
View Forum Message <> Reply to Message

I'm not home. Out of state for the weekend so I'm watching it on the news. George may not have power either. I heard parts of Toronto were on that part of the grid too. It looks like things are getting back on line. Maybe by morning things will be back to normal.Bill

Subject: Re: We sold all our generators right off the pallets in 20 minutes
Posted by BillEpstein on Fri, 15 Aug 2003 01:55:49 GMT
View Forum Message <> Reply to Message

Had people lined up buying 2 at a time at around 4 o'clock.Over $30,000 worth. By 9 everyone had their power back here in the waistland. We expect a "few" returns tomorrow. Anyone want a 5000 Watt open box special?

Subject: No Music Last Night!

Posted by elektratic on Fri, 15 Aug 2003 20:32:16 GMT

View Forum Message <> Reply to Message

I was at work on Wall Street when the power went down. Walked home with a bunch of people from the office, found a bar and drank beer till about 10, put a few suburban types up in my sweltering apartment -- before air conditioning at least people had fans. We got up about 6 am and went out early -- it was cooler outside. No music, but we weathered the inconvenience just fine. Everyone in NYC remained in remarkably good spirits. Does anyone else remember the '65 blackout? I was just a kid at the time, but I have a dim recollection of flashlights and a transistor radio and waiting for my father to get home.

Subject: Re: No Music Last Night!

Posted by Bill Martinelli on Sat, 16 Aug 2003 00:24:46 GMT

View Forum Message <> Reply to Message

Nov 10, 65. My sister was born that night. I was only 4

Subject: Re: Who powered up all their amps at once?

Posted by toxicport.e on Sat, 16 Aug 2003 22:59:08 GMT

View Forum Message <> Reply to Message

hey here in New Zealand over our winter, we rely on hydro dams, we had almost power cuts, the government never does anything about it! we had to save 10% of our power, we JUST attained this, we had hot water heating cut off, but fortunately it rained heaps!! hahaso luckymakes me think of 3rd world countries makes u realise how powerless we are, without power, like 19th century technology.
