I've been toying with the idea of having an "audio garage sale" in my room at LSAF. Any extra registration requirements, or "rules" about that? Or... maybe if there is enough interest, there could be a larger room dedicated to a "swap meet" kind of thing?

Sounds like a great idea! I doubt there would be any larer rooms available since a group must earn the use of a conference room by promising so many reservations or by renting it at a fairly high price, but it would be nice if somebody set up their room as a swap room.

I'll volunteer mine. However, since my wife will be with me, let's not call it a "swap room" - might not go over well. Then again... no, bad idea. Or we could even have a couple of them but publish what the numbers are so people know. The issue is they are likely not to be on the same floor as the rest of the demo rooms, so folks would need to go out of their way a bit. Anyway, I'm looking forward to pruning the equipment list a bit!

Name confusion and WAF, oh, man that's funny! Sounds like a Rodney Dangerfield skit.

Sounds good to me, Steve. Keep me updated with what you decide to do.

Steve, I booked a room that should be within the block, but don't plan on having any gear to show at this time. If someone wants to man my room for a swap meet, that's fine with me, cuz I'll need to be out schmoozing the exhibitors

Shane, that's great! Maybe anyone who is interested in doing the swap meet can sign up for times to man the room and that way give us better coverage. I think this would be a much better way than ebay to get rid of some surplus!
