Hi:I was wondering if anybody's tried the Magnum 15LF. BassBox say F3 at 37 Hz in a 7 ft^3 box. Looks pretty flat, with a broad hump from 500 to 1000 KHz. I'm thinking it looks good for a "4Pi" two-way XO at 800 to a JBL 2426. Any opinions?TIACharlie

Hi Charlie!Those Magnum drivers do look killer, don't they? I really like the technologies they've chosen, as they have proven to be a winner for others. But I haven't had the time to build something with 'em yet.So you should definitely report back if you build something with them. The Magnum series promises to be Eminence's best product offering, and I hope they incorporate these technologies in their other product lines.Wayne
