Bill, If you find someone who wants to buy your parts, I just might know where a pair of Theatre 4 cabinets might be found that they fit in!!!For someone who does not want to build them that is. I thought I was the only one with 2 left thumbs. Yes, I don't attemp to build anything resembling cabnetry, that way I can save a tree or two for those who can build. Regards, RonPS: Bill, I now have 902C's on my Edgarhorns, requires 2db more attenuation than the 806A's though, do have tad bit better HF extension. You can see them when you come down in November!!! Ron
