Hi Wayne, For the last year I have been the proud owner of a pair of fabulously sounding Pro Series 7Pi-18 cornerhorns and would like to thank you again for sharing your design. About a month after I finished them, I blew the only decent(15 yr.old velodyne)sub-woofer I had. The poor thing just couldn't keep up with the 7Pi's. And to be quite honest, I really don't miss it. But now I'm working on incorporating a HT system and would like to add one. I did a search and found that you recommend the 2245H. If so, could you please email the plans to me. Thanks,Gerry Provenzale

Hey Wayne,What are the plans like for the 2245? Is it a horn? It must be huge! I missed out on a 2245 basket on eBay Australia not long ago. It went cheap and I was going to buy it and also original recone kit so I could compare it to my 18LW1400. I was really kicking myself for missing that! because chances of someone in australia having it again are just about zero. Cheers - Adrian

It's bass-reflex. You're right, free-standing basshorns are huge.
