Not to ignore you, I had serious trouble getting kinkos computers to read this forum. I now have more reliable access. I may be able to use some space on the account I am borrowing at this very moment. If you dont see some nice three Pi's in a post from me real soon I would really appreciate it.Thanks for the offer either way!Thomas

I'd like copies of your photos too. I wrote you an E-Mail, but then realized that you couldn't reach it.I've maintained copies of some of the photos posted here, and one of these times it might be page too. Maybe this forum web server can do double-duty as an image server; That might be a good thing to check into.Anyway, I'm anxious to see your speakers whenever you've gotten settled and can post send them.
