First let me say "Hi Wayne". Long time no talk. The WAF has won the battle. Wayne, I don't know if you still have pictures of my Pi 7's or not. I no longer have them.My Pi's were originally loaded with all Selenium parts. 1505 15" motors, 205TI drivers and 23-25 horns. I have moved the 1505's to a pair of Altec 828 cabinets with 511B horns and Peavey 22A drivers. In the place of the 1505's, I put in a pair of JBL 2226H's. One needs a dust cap replaced, otherwise they sound great. They shake everything in the house. The Pi's are capable of being bi-ampped.I am looking to get $800.00 for the Pi's and the VOTT's. All 4 for $800.00. I am sure they will have to be a local sale. I doubt I can ship the VOTT's.With that said. I think it is time to start shopping for a smaller package that will pass the WAF.I will try to get some pictures up.Brian

Men who have a choice. Sell the speakers or live in them. These "doghouses" have a 50-50 split on how many men live in them and how many men get rid of them to keep the peace. 99% of the men that keep them have reported intense new relationships with their new girlfriends. Apparently it's something to do with not having to go far to party. ;-).Grant.

Here are some pictures before last coat of stain and poly. They show the Selenium 1505's. I can put them back in instead of the 2226's if you only want to buy the Pi'sBrian

Brian, I would like to discuss the 7 Pi cabinets with you if possible. I have drivers, but if you need to sell everything together, I might be able to find some friends who need things also. rsemega@cols.disa.milSend me a e-mail and I will see about calling you up. I live in Columbus, Ohio so not too far away. I also have things of interest if you wish to trade/swap. Let me know what you think.Regards, Ron
