Hi Wayne and fellow enthusiasts! Long time no talk. THought I would pop in and say hi, see how things are. Things are pretty busy around here. I just got back from a three week vacation in British Columbia, very nice out there. I may move there. Also got a new girlfriend and concentrating on building up my business. Wayne, I burned up a hard drive while I was gone on my trip (figures) and, of course, lost all of my personal files, business files, and programs. I'm looking at getting my hands on SPL trace/view, as well as speaker workshop again. Last I remember you had them up for download, but I can't find them. Where can I pick them up? Thanks bud! Adam

Speaker Workshop is easy to find at www.SpeakerWorkshop.com. The URL used to be www.Audia.com, the name of Mark Zachmann's company that wrote Speaker Workshop, but he changed the address. Makes it pretty easy to find.
