I don't see any mention of ten pi's on your site anymore. Did you eliminate them?Adam

No, but most people build their own. They're just too expensive to ship.

Hey, what you oughtta do is, is put up a page with links to all your old plans, so people could download them like crazy without even having to ask you! Yeah, that's the ticket! A really great page, with pictures and descriptions and really cool animated buttons to download lots of free plans! You'll lose a little on each one, but you'll make it up on VOLUME!
