After talking to Wayne about some rough-cut 7 Pi cabinets, he suggested I post and ask the masses. I am not interested in putting a horn in these, they will not be anything but used with the JBL 2226 for possible sub use with my Edgarhorns. I am not looking for furniture grade quality, but some mechanically sound units that I can apply stain and finish to later. Basically that is because I am limited on funds that I can spend on this project. I am located in Ohio, so shipping costs would be a item. I would like to find a pair within a short drive if possible. Would appreciate any leads that come up. Hopefully I can find a pair and make things happen after the holidays. Thanks, Ron

I guess it is too far of a reach to think anyone would have these laying around gathering dust. Just thought I would try though!!! Happy Thanksgiving to everyone, especially Wayne and Alona!!!! Ron
