I intended to start breaking in the Vifa 25's tonight. Ran to RS at lunch to get .110 connectors. Bought 4 assortment packages 2 get 8 of'm. $10 bucks. Got to work and discovered 8 of'm in with the caps and resisitors that came with the upgrade kit. Amazing.BTW, running them parallel to the Altec 902's puts the drummer in your lap but female voice very promising.Can't wait to install them in the Towers.

They are pretty good tweeters, aren't they? I'm real pleased with them. I wish you had noticed those 0.110" connectors in the kit 'cause I know how much the assortment packs are. That's why towers sound to you once you get the new tweeters installed.

Let me know if you come across a way that'll put the female on your lap instead.
