I decided the JBL 2245 is the perfect driver for my planned subwoofer. The I discovered it went out of production a few years back--and I missed a GREAT deal on them at the JBL tent sale. So now a need recommendations for where to purchase a pair.To make matters worse, I probably won't be able to purchase these for several months.Thanks.

Yeah, sadly those are discontinued. I liked them a lot too. Now you pretty much have to buy 'em where you find them. Check the usual sources, speaker repair shops, eBay, etc.
