...and there are very nice parks and trails that extend from downtown all the way into Jenks. May not be there now, but there used to be little outdoor eatery at about 15th street and Riverside dr, right on the river, where you could get munchies and listen to some live music, some of which was occasionally really good. Music, shade, food, beer, and a view of the river and the hotties skating by on roller blades. Can't beat that.
