Hello,I have given up my High end Magnepans for some old Bozaks I like the feel of real bass. I lovem and figure I would like to upgrade to some modern 12" or 15" woofer beasts, than can outdue the bozaks.I have a few amps from a Fi 2a3, mint dynaco st70, Odessey mono amps (185 watts high current) and a Mc MC2205 (200watts), so I pretty much have a good choice to find the best amp to match. My room is 24 long 14 wide 10' high. I listen to clasic rock most of the time and Blues the rest sometimes some of that joss stone kind of music, .I will be buiding the cabnets myself. Can someone sugdest which kit is best for me? also cabinet plans, size is not a problem I dont want to be stuck with corner horns. Also do you think these will best the Bozaks...I have the Concerto 3001 its the 12" 199 woofer and a three 200 tweeter aray. in a 5' infinit baffle enclosure I wouldn want to wast my time. Unfortunately I have never herd any of the Pi speakers on read about themThanks Bob

HiThis sounds pretty intriguing. I am interested in building one of your kits to mate up with some Bottlehead gear, don't have the room for corner loading, but want the best speaker sound I can get for around $1k (building my own cabinets if fine). Could you please send the plans to me as well?Thanks
